

PACIFIC BIOFUELS LAUNCHES ITS NEW WEBSITE

PORTLAND, OR June 21, 2007 – Pacific BioFuels, a division of Portland based Carson Oil Company, today launched its company website, www.pacific-biofuels.com.

Jeff Rouse, Alternative Fuels Manager for Carson Oil Company, heads up Pacific BioFuels and had this to say about the new website. “The new Pacific BioFuels site features a lot of very useful information and links regarding BioDiesel, BioHeat and Ethanol based products and services, and site visitors can expect to see new service, product and industry resources information added and updated on a regular basis”.

Pacific BioFuels is Oregon’s premier resource for Biofuels and has several branch locations throughout Oregon. Based in Portland, the company operates in partnership with NuStar Energy LP, and maintains two large-scale Biofuels terminals strategically located in Portland, Oregon and Vancouver, Washington that specialize in the distribution of Biodiesel and Ethanol Fuels.
